The International Society for the Study of Fatty Acids and Lipids (ISSFAL) was established in 1991 with the aim of increasing the understanding of the role of fatty acids and lipids in health and disease, through research and education.

The members of ISSFAL come from more than forty countries and include scientists, health professionals, administrators and educators with an interest in the effects of fatty acids and lipids.

The mission of ISSFAL is to enable communication among all those who are studying the impact of fatty acids and lipids in health and disease, and are working in nutrition, physiology, pathology, biochemistry, cellular and molecular biology, and medicine.

ISSFAL is also taking a role in translating new knowledge into expert recommendations that can guide professional organisations and inform new policies worldwide.

ISSFAL 2027 will continue the tradition of biennial international meetings and we look forward to your support of this important Congress.

ISSFAL 2027 THEMES & TOPICS

The Congress will run Sunday through Wednesday, 20-23 June. As in past meetings, ISSFAL 2027 will provide an opportunity to see and discuss the latest scientific findings related to the biology of fatty acids and lipids; and for interaction among scientists from academia, government and industry with other health professionals.

Satellite Symposia and Sponsored Workshops: There will be several added opportunities to present during the Congress in either a workshop format or by arranging a satellite symposium on a specific theme. We encourage you to contact us about any proposal to conduct such a session as soon as possible.

INVITEES

ISSFAL 2027 will invite leading scientists in the area of lipid and fatty acid research, particularly those whose work can be linked to human health. By inviting outstanding scientists who will present their most recent findings and discuss the relevance of their work for health, we aim to attract more than 500 delegates from around the world from a wide range of disciplines linked to lipids and health.

The meeting will also feature the presentations of the ISSFAL's prestigious awards – Alexander Leaf Award and the Dr. Norman J. Salem, Jr. Early Career Award.

The 2027 Congress will continue the ISSFAL tradition of providing extensive support for New Investigators, who are the future of research in lipids and fatty acids and of the Society. ISSFAL is providing travel bursaries to support the attendance of New Investigators. Furthermore, ISSFAL 2027 will provide discounted registration for the successful New Investigator Awards applicants, as well as significant prizes for the best oral and poster presentations from this group.

INVITATION TO SPONSOR, EXHIBIT, AND ADVERTISE

Industry sponsorship has always been a key feature of the success of ISSFAL meetings. This support enables us to invite leading scientists from across all fatty acid and lipid research. Sponsorship also allows us to offer various opportunities to all attendees to interact, while keeping the registration cost to a moderate level. This is an important benefit, in view of the emphasis ISSFAL places on the encouragement and support given to early career researchers.

Apart from the invitations to submit work for presentation, a significant number of free registrations are awarded to student members, together with the opportunity to apply for travel awards and to win prizes for the best science presented. All this support could not be achieved without significant financial sponsorship from industry, academia and government.

The Organizing Committee invites you to support the Congress through one of several sponsorships, exhibition or promotional opportunities listed on the following pages.

The Congress will be promoted to as diverse an audience as possible by:

- Direct mail and mailing list targeting over 2000 individuals on our list
- Visibility on both the ISSFAL main website (issfal.org) and the dedicated ISSFAL 2027 Congress website (issfalcongress.com)
- On-site promotion at allied meetings leading up to the congress
- An extensive social media campaign

As in previous years, there will be many opportunities to recognise sponsors in prominent ways. On the following pages the benefits associated with the various sponsorship packages are set out. Early application is advisable to ensure that your company's marketing goals are realized — as soon as sponsorship is confirmed, your company will be listed on the website and in print material as a supporter of ISSFAL 2027.

The Organizing Committee would be happy to discuss with you any of the exhibition and promotional opportunities available. If you wish to discuss options that are not currently listed, we would be pleased to explore these with you and cater to your individual requirements.

Further information about the exhibition space and a floor plan will be distributed early in 2027.

ISSFAL expresses gratitude for the generous support from industry and is looking forward to the continuation of this relationship.

Yours sincerely,

Bente Reuter
Congress Chair

Adina Michael-Titus
ISSFAL President
